MAKE Life MATTER

WHO IS ANGELA?

Angela Donadio is an author, international speaker, and host Of the top-ranked Make Life Matter Podcast. Her resources help others ground their worth in the Word rather than the narrative of the world.

As a seasoned Bible teacher with thirty years of ministry experience and a survivor of two near-death health crises, she encourages others to transform pain into purpose and embrace the fearless life they were created for.

Angela partners with her husband, Dale, to lead River of Life, a diverse church near Washington, D.C. She is pursuing her Master of Leadership and Ministry and is the Founder of Voice of the Voiceless, championing women through initiatives at home, throughout Africa, and other parts of the world. She is an adventure junkie, lover of statement earrings, and grateful mom to two young adults.

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING

“It’s from a place of struggle turned strength that Angela beautifully points us to our ultimate Source of joy, no matter what circumstance we might face.” Lysa TerKeurst, New York Times Bestselling Author

“Scripture has proven it and the church reflects it, that the kingdom of God is advanced with greater effectiveness when God-gifted and called daughters are engaged in ministry and leadership.” Rev. Doug Clay, World Assemblies of God Fellowship

“Not only does she speak, but she is also an anointed worship leader and very sensitive to what God is doing in a service. Without reservation, I would schedule Angela Donadio.” Liz DeFrain, Women’s Director, PennDel Ministry Network
